Sim 4 Sims M Making Magic Game..Q: simple_cms doesn't use my DB I'm running a website on simple_cms and I have a question regarding database management. I'd like to test a module and I have created a new database using the db config file, but when I try to run my module, simple_cms tries to create a new database with the same name as the db file I created. I can't find any documentation on that, but I tried to solve that by renaming the original DB file and by setting MYSQL_DATABASE, but the problem still stays, then I'm thinking about something else. A: I had this issue last night and tried to investigate it more but, in the end, I created a simple app.php file to verify my database config file was being loaded correctly. This only works if you set your DB config in your config.php file by declaring the database settings in this way:

```
$config = array();
$config['databases']['default']['database']['hostname'] = 'localhost';
$config['databases']['default']['database']['username'] = 'root';
$config['databases']['default']['database']['password'] = '';
$config['databases']['default']['database']['database'] = 'simple_cms';

 This means that you need to have database connection working in simple_cms and then set $config['databases']['default']['database'] in this way in your config.php to use the connection. For example, your config file should look like this for your development: $config = array();

$config['databases']['default']['database']['hostname'] = 'localhost';
$config['databases']['default']['database']['username'] = 'root';
$config['databases']['default']['database']['password'] = '';
$config['databases']['default']['database']['database'] = '3e33713323'
